

DRAFT SAMPLE EXAMINATION MARKING KEY

DRAFT

SECTION ONE—MULTIPLE-CHOICE [20 marks]

Question	Answer
1.	A
2.	D
3.	B
4.	D
5.	B
6.	D
7.	C
8.	A
9.	B
10.	C
11.	D
12.	A
13.	D
14.	B
15.	C
16.	C
17.	B
18.	D
19.	A
20.	C

SECTION TWO—SHORT RESPONSE

Question 1

(a) [8 marks]

Appropriate business format	1–2
Business language and terminology	1
Apology	1
Comment on action to be taken	1–2
Comment on improvement of customer service (including apology)	1–2

(b) [2 marks]

Identifies alternative action seek advice from consumer protection Contact the manufacturer directly	1–2
--	-----

Question 2

(a) [2 marks]

Explanation of business innovation	1
Appropriate example	1

Business innovation is any original concept, new or improved device, product, material, business process or service.

(b) [2 marks]

One mark for each appropriate step	1–2
------------------------------------	-----

Steps which can foster innovation at work include:

- creating opportunities for staff to discuss ideas
- creating opportunities for staff to review products and procedures
- encouraging feedback from all staff
- recognising and rewarding innovation.

(c) [3 marks]

Description of three factors which can inhibit success	1–3
--	-----

Factors which can inhibit the success of an innovation include:

- the innovation is not technically feasible
- there is little demand for it
- the development and commercialisation of the invention has been poorly planned
- it is unable to be produced at competitive prices
- inadequate knowledge of the marketplace and competitors
- inadequate management skills to commercialise the invention.

(d) [3 marks]

Explanation of three factors which can facilitate success	1–3
---	-----

Factors which can facilitate success include:

- timing
- available and emerging technologies
- cultural environments
- political environments and government policy
- economic and legal factors
- marketing strategy including size, demand and product promotion.

Question 3

(a) [2 marks]

One mark for explanation of positioning, one for public image	1–2
---	-----

- Positioning is the perception of the product in relation to its competition.
- The public image of a business is the image that the business portrays to major stakeholders, for example, to current and potential customers, employees, investors/funders, suppliers, local and state agencies etc.

(b) [4 marks]

One mark for each appropriate marketing strategy identified	1-2
One mark for each explanation of usefulness	1-2

Any two of a range of strategies could be suggested.

Strategies which are particularly useful for the start-up stage are those which develop brand awareness. Examples of such strategies are:

- sponsorship of community events
- samples at retail outlets
- free make-up sessions at retail outlets or community events
- free samples through beauty and fashion magazines
- product endorsement from a high-profile personality.

(c) [2 marks]

Identification of appropriate distribution channel	1
Explanation of why it would be suitable	1

Suggested distribution channels could include:

beauty salons
boutique cosmetic outlets party plan.

(d) [2 marks]

Appropriate business format	1
Business language and terminology	1

Question 4
(a) [4 marks]

[10 marks]

(i) authorised order form	1
(ii) cash receipt or till slip	1
(iii) copy of invoice from creditor	1
(iv) cheque or other evidence of payment.	1

(b) [4 marks]

Any two of: • order book—used to track orders • cash receipts journal—used to record cash receipts and allocate to correct account • purchases journal—used to record purchases on credit and allocate to creditor's account so that a record is created of monies owed to creditors • cash payments journal—used to record payments from bank account and to compare with bank statement. One mark for identification, second mark for explanation.	4
---	---

(c) [2 marks]

Any appropriate use of technology such as: • calculation of totals • posting to ledger accounts • extraction of financial statements • stock records with automatic triggers for reordering.	2
--	---

Question 5 [10 marks]

Identification of five appropriate skills or attributes.	1–5
Examples which illustrate each skill or attribute.	1–5

Skills or attributes could include:

- Total commitment, determination and perseverance
- Drive to achieve and grow
- Orientation to goals and opportunities
- Taking initiative and personal responsibility
- Persistence in problem-solving
- Honesty and a sense of humour
- Seeking and using feedback
- Internal locus of control
- Tolerance of ambiguity, stress and uncertainty
- Calculated risk-taking and risk sharing
- Low need for status and power
- Integrity and reliability
- Decisiveness, urgency and patience
- Coping with failure
- Team builder and hero maker
- High energy, health and emotional stability
- Creativity and capacity to innovative
- High intelligence and conceptual ability
- Vision and capacity to inspire.

Question 6
(a) [4 marks]

Induction is the process of familiarising new members of staff with the business and its culture. A program for a new employee can be informal or highly structured. It should include the company's facilities, physical layout, key personnel, organisational rules, procedures and culture and also an evaluation of the program itself.	2
Training is the process of using planned activities designed to improve the job performance of employees in accordance with organisational objectives. The process includes providing employees with opportunities to gain, develop and enhance skills to improve their performance on the job, and attempts to help employees keep their skill levels current and up to date.	2

(b) [4 marks]

Induction is important in helping new staff members understand the culture, objectives and goals of the organisation so that they are more easily able to contribute and quickly feel a sense of belonging.	2
Training is particularly important in the retention of staff, helping to make them feel valued and offering them challenges which retain their interest in the job and the organisation. Also increases the feeling of belonging.	2

(c) [2 marks]

Describes an example of induction or training	1
Explains how the example has helped to motivate and retain staff	1

Question 7
(a) [2 marks]

Any two appropriate points which explain relationship marketing	1–2
• Relationship marketing is: ▪ the consistent application of up to date knowledge of individual customers ▪ to product and service design ▪ which is communicated interactively ▪ in order to develop a continuous mutually beneficial and long term relationship. • The focus of relationship marketing is on customer loyalty and customer retention.

(b) [3 marks]

One mark for each factor of a niche market	1–3
• Individuals in the group have the same specialised interests and needs. • They have a strong desire for what you offer. • You have (or you can create) a compelling reason for prospects in the group to do business with you instead of with someone else. • You can easily reach individual prospects within the group. • The group is large enough to produce the volume of business you need. • The group is small enough that your competition is likely to overlook it.

(d) [5 marks]

Building customer loyalty by establishing rewards systems or providing personalized service.	1
Impacts on the customer include: improved personalized service, opportunity to gain other rewards, being persuaded to upgrade or purchase products they would not normally purchase.	2
Impacts on the company: improved customer loyalty, improved profits, improved ability to refine products to meet specific needs, increased costs of staff training and customer database management.	2

END OF SECTION TWO

DRAFT

SECTION THREE—EXTENDED RESPONSE

Question 8

[30 marks]

Description	Marks
Appropriate use of business terminology	1–2
Effectiveness of communication format or combination of formats	1–3
Maximum for presentation	5
Students fully describe a comprehensive marketing campaign, incorporating points from the list below. Strategies are clearly appropriate to the launch of the new mobile phone and demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's current marketing strategies and product range.	20
Students describe an appropriate marketing campaign, incorporating points from the list below. Explanations and suggestions demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	15–19
Students outline some elements of a marketing campaign, incorporating points from the list below. Explanations demonstrate some understanding and consideration of Crazy John's current marketing strategies or product range.	10–14
Students outline some appropriate marketing strategies, incorporating points from the list below. Explanations demonstrate little understanding and consideration of Crazy John's current marketing strategies or product range.	5–9
Students identify some unrelated marketing strategies, incorporating a few points from the list below. Little reference to Crazy John's current marketing strategies or product range.	3–4
Provides limited or inaccurate information.	1–2
Maximum for marketing campaign	20
Students clearly communicate assumptions regarding target market for the new phone. Assumptions clearly demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's current product range and market demographics.	5
Students outline assumptions regarding target market for the new phone. Assumptions demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's current product range and market demographics.	3–4
Students identify some assumptions regarding target market for the new phone. Assumptions demonstrate limited understanding and consideration of Crazy John's current product range and market demographics.	1–2
Maximum for assumptions regarding target market	5

Marketing campaigns for new products should always include publicity which could be obtained by:

- Special launch events around Australia
- Sponsorship of community events
- Sponsorship of sports teams
- Press releases to mass media
- Newsworthy stunt involving new phone to get attention.

Other useful strategies include:

- Financial incentives
 - Introductory discounts e.g. buy one get one free
 - Bundling with other phone products or services
 - Special windows of opportunity offering loss leaders e.g. first 100 purchasers after midnight launch
 - Cash back for introducing a friend
- Building product confidence
 - Money back guarantees
 - Information about ease of use
 - Information about maintenance (spares, service)
 - Well-known personalities or organisations backing the product
- Selling new product to existing customers
 - Direct mail to current customers
 - Capitalise on company's ability to deliver, based on past performance
 - Demonstrate understanding of how customers requirements are changing
 - Emphasise that this is an innovative response to existing customer needs
- Ensuring the new product is prominently displayed on website
- Purchase database lists of potential customers

Question 9*[30 marks]*

Description	Marks
Appropriate use of business terminology	1–2
Effectiveness of communication format or combination of formats	1–3
Maximum for presentation	5
Students analyse and evaluate the full effect of the proposed expansion, incorporating points from the list below. Explanations refer to human resource motivation theories and clearly demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	20
Students analyse and evaluate the effect of the proposed expansion, incorporating points from the list below. Explanations refer to a human resource motivation theory and suggestions demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	15–19
Students analyse some effects of the proposed expansion, incorporating points from the list below. Explanations mention a human resource motivation theory and demonstrate some understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	10–14
Students outline some effects of the proposed expansion, incorporating points from the list below. Explanations demonstrate little understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	5–9
Students identify some effects of the proposed expansion, incorporating a few points from the list below. No reference to Crazy John's workplace culture or management style.	3–4
Provides limited or inaccurate information.	1–2
Maximum for impact of expansion	20
Students clearly communicate actions which should be taken as a result of the proposed expansion. Suggested actions clearly demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	5
Students outline actions which should be taken as result of expansion. Suggested actions demonstrate understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	3–4
Students identify some actions which should be taken as result of expansion. Suggested actions demonstrate limited understanding and consideration of Crazy John's workplace culture and management style.	1–2
Maximum for action which could be taken	5

Effects on organisational structure and employees' motivation include:

- greater span of control
- chain of command becomes longer
- difficulty in maintaining open communication channels
- difficulty in maintaining sense of belonging
- importance of setting up new hr practice
- good answer follows one theme, excellent answers integrates more than one theme

Human resource motivation theories include:

- Maslow—physiological; safety; belonging; esteem; self-actualisation
- Herzberg—maintenance needs and psychological needs
 - Maintenance needs don't impact unless negative e.g.
 - o work conditions
 - o status
 - o security
 - o relationships
 - Psychological motivators e.g.
 - o achievement
 - o recognition
 - o responsibility
 - o advancement
 - o personal growth
- Expectancy—predicts that employees in an organisation will be motivated when they believe that:
 - putting in more effort will yield better job performance
 - better job performance will lead to organisational rewards, such as an increase in salary or benefits
 - these predicted organisational rewards are valued by the employee in question.
- Equity—an individual will consider that he is treated fairly if he perceives the ratio of his inputs to his outcomes to be equivalent to those around him.

Actions include:

- review of current human resource development policy and practice to ensure
 - maintaining open communication channels
 - maintaining sense of belonging—events and induction and hr practice
 - maintaining job security and clear career pathways
 - alignment of new employees with corporate vision and goals.

MAPPING OF EXAM TO COURSE CONTENT

Section/ question	Environments			Strategies & Processes			People
	Social, cultural and economic	Political and legal	Technological	Management	Marketing	Operations	Intrapersonal and interpersonal	Consumers and competitors	Human resources
S1Q1				A
S1Q2									A
S1Q3				A
S1Q4				B
S1Q5	B
S1Q6					A
S1Q7				B
S1Q8		B
S1Q9						A
S1Q10		A
S1Q11		A & B
S1Q12				B
S1Q13					A
S1Q14									B
S1Q15									B
S1Q16					A
S1Q17								A
S1Q18								A
S1Q19				B
S1Q20							A
S2Q1	A	A		A				A & B
S2Q2	B			B			B
S2Q3	A			A	B	A
S2Q4			B			A
S2Q5							B
S2Q6				B			A & B		B
S2Q7					A & B
S3Q8	A		A	A	A		A	A
S3Q9	B	B	B	B		B	B	B	B

DRAFT

Published by the Curriculum Council of Western Australia
27 Walters Drive
OSBORNE PARK WA 6017