Question 1

(15 marks)

What is the author's attitude to fast fashion and what solutions does she offer to the problems it creates?

*An outlook or a specific feeling about something.

The author Shuk-Wah Chung illustrates his attitude to fashion and the environment in the blog Post "Fast Fashion is a drowning world, we need a Fashion Revolution". Fashion is apart of our every day lives whether we know it or not. Everyone will buy and wear hundreds of different outfits during their life for many different events. But at what cost? In this blog post chung states that two billion Pairs of Sean's are produced each year and it takes 7000 ~~liter~~ Liters of water to produce just one. ~~the~~ This tells us that chung is a strongly Positive attitude towards the environment and she is willing to do what it takes to help it. Towards the end of her blogpost chung ~~thawd~~ gives us some great advice on how to help the environment, She says that consumers should stay away from impuse purchases and that instead of ~~throwing~~ throwing a clothes away, we can donate them.

This reinstates her positive attitude towards ~~the~~ the environment and also illustrates that it is easy ~~and~~ and simple to do little things to help make our world a better place. Furthermore the author Shuk-Wah chung illustrates ~~his~~ ^{her} positive attitude towards the environment in her blogpost "Fast fashion is a drowning world, we need a fashion revolution".

(15 marks)

In what ways has Shuk-Wah written her blogpost so that it will persuade readers to agree with her?

In ~~her~~^{his} blogpost "Fast ~~Fashion~~^{Fashion} is a drowning world, we need a fashion revolution, the author Shuk-wah uses persuasive language such as statistics to persuade his readers to agree with him. Shuk-wah ~~was~~^{was} very persuasive in ~~his~~^{his} blog post to tell ~~his~~^{his} audience that fashion is ~~terrible~~^{terrible} for the environment. In the beginning of his post he uses statistics to persuade his audience when he says "there's the dying process in which 1.7 million chemicals are used; not to mention the hazardous ones that leaves a permanent impact on the environment. This paragraph illustrates to the audience that ~~the~~ fashion is terrible for the environment, when he uses key words like permanent and 1.7 million these are strong words which now with evidence allow his audience to feel convinced about this dangerous situation. Further more Shuk wah used key words and statistics to prove to us that fashion is damaging the environment + in his blog post Fast

Fashion is a drowning world, we need a fashion revolution.
