STAGE 2SECTION TWO: VIEWING, READING AND RESPONDING TO PRINT AND VISUAL TEXTS, AND WRITING

Outcome: Writing
Assessment type: Written communication

Part B: Extended response[30 marks]

Answer either Question 1 OR Question 2 in approximately 150 words in FRENCH.

Question 1

Australia celebrated National Youth Tobacco Free Day on March 19. As your school participated in activities related to this day, write an email to your French-speaking friend to explain:

- why your school participated
- why you think it is important that young people should not smoke
- what kind of activities took place at your school to raise students' awareness of the dangers of smoking.

OR

Question 2

Your French friend is trying to quit smoking and has asked you for some advice and moral support. You recently discussed this topic in your French class, so you feel confident that you can give your friend at least five very good reasons why s/he should say 'no' to cigarettes. Outline the advice you would give.

Stage 3 Oral communication

Marking key

Linguistic elements and accuracy
10–9	8–7	6–5	4–3	2–1
Communicates using a very high level of grammatical accuracy, and a wide range of vocabulary and complex sentence structures. Demonstrates ability to use alternative ways of saying things and carry out self corrections.	Communicates using a reasonable range of vocabulary, language structures and more complex sentences with some accuracy and control. Demonstrates some inaccuracies in expression, grammar or syntax (verb tenses, genders) which do not affect meaning.	Communicates using a limited range of linguistic resources and sentence structures characterised by repetition and a range of inaccuracies in grammar and vocabulary which do affect meaning.	Communicates using very limited range of vocabulary and responds using short sentences. Uses simple language structures with pauses and significant errors (mostly verb tenses and genders).	Communicates using single words or incomplete sentences characterised by set formulae, frequent pauses and a high level of inaccuracies, influenced by English or first language syntax and vocabulary.
Score:
Relevance and depth of response
10–9	8–7	6–5	4–3	2–1
Presents and develops relevant information associated with stimulus, questions or examiner's comments. Supports original ideas and opinions with examples and/or own experiences. Demonstrates excellent command of language to inform, engage or persuade. Sequences and structures ideas and information effectively.	Presents relevant ideas and information associated with stimulus, questions or examiner's comments and gives some supporting examples. Manipulates language with some degree of authenticity and creativity to inform and engage. Sequences and structures ideas and information coherently.	Presents a range of ideas and information associated with stimulus, questions or examiner's comments. Manipulates language but has some difficulty to express own ideas and opinions coherently. Organises information and ideas adequately.	Presents a limited range of ideas and information that are not always associated with stimulus, questions or examiner's comments. Demonstrates limited evidence of the ability to organise information and ideas.	Presents comments and information not relevant to the task. Not able to express own opinions and ideas adequately. First language interference evident in vocabulary and sentence structures.
Score:
Fluency and pronunciation
5	4	3	2	1
Communicates confidently and fluently with excellent intonation and pronunciation. Uses appropriate 'fillers' to maintain fluency in the target language when 'think time' is required.	Communicates effectively, with good degree of fluency and correct intonation. Uses consistently clear and comprehensible pronunciation; speech flows.	Maintains satisfactory communication with some pauses, repetition and inaccuracies. Pronunciation is highly comprehensible, but may show some hesitation relating to conventions of conversation, such as turn taking.	Maintains a very basic level of communication with frequent pauses and errors in pronunciation and intonation. Frequent silences in conversation.	Uses single words, set formulae and anglicisms to express information. Hesitation and errors in pronunciation interfere with communication. May not respond at all.
Score:
Comprehension and interaction
5	4	3	2	1
Comprehends quickly and, possibly with some anticipation, responds spontaneously and without hesitation to all questions and comments from marker including more complex questions. Interacts with marker using body language (where relevant) and correct register (tu/vous). Expresses enthusiasm and involvement in the topic and conversation.	Comprehends and responds appropriately to most questions from marker, including those of a medium level of complexity. Speaks with some spontaneity. Interacts with marker using body language (where relevant) and correct register. Expresses interest in the topic and conversation.	May hesitate and needs time for reflection, but responds appropriately to most questions. Has trouble comprehending more complex questions. Interacts with marker using some body language (where relevant) and mostly correct register. The conversation is directed by the marker and lacks spontaneity.	Responds with difficulty to most questions from marker and has trouble understanding meaning or responds inappropriately. Needs clarification and rephrasing of questions. Demonstrates little or inappropriate use of body language and uses incorrect register. Minimum involvement or engagement with the topic.	Frequent prompting and repetition or rephrasing of questions needed; silences due to lack of comprehension. Does not pick up on non-verbal cues or nuances of language. Coherent conversation difficult. No interaction with marker. No involvement or engagement with the topic.
