

Religion and Life

WACE written examination—2010 design brief

Stage 3

Time allowed

Reading time before commencing work: ten minutes

Working time for paper: three hours

Permissible items

Standard items: pens, pencils, eraser, correction fluid, ruler, highlighter

Special items: nil

Additional information

Each section will focus primarily on one of the three content sections of the course.

The examination is presented in a combined question/answer booklet.

Instructions to candidates indicate that unless otherwise specified, any mode of response that clearly communicates their understanding is acceptable. In either Section Two or Section Three, one question specifically requires candidates to write an essay.

Section	Supporting information
Section One Religious inquiry and processes Short answer 20–30% of the written exam 2–5 questions Suggested working time: 30–45 minutes	Questions relate to religious inquiry and processes. Candidates are given a set of sources that relate to an area of research or an issue and are asked to respond to a sequence of short answer questions. All questions relating to a particular document set are compulsory. Sources, such as quotations, propositions, cartoons, images, graphs and text, may be used as stimulus material.
Section Two The nature of religion 30–40% of the written exam 2–5 questions Suggested working time: 60–75 minutes	Questions relate to the nature of religion. The range of questions may include short and extended responses. Questions are written generically to accommodate candidates who have studied different religions. Candidates are required to use specific knowledge relevant to at least one religious perspective when responding to each question. Questions will typically require students to critically engage and conceptualise specific understandings on the nature of religion drawn from course content. Sources, such as quotations, propositions, cartoons, images, graphs and text, may be used as stimulus material Candidates may be asked to choose from a selection of questions.
Section Three The influence of religion 30–40% of the written exam 2–5 questions Suggested working time: 60–75 minutes	Questions relate to the influence of religion. The range of questions may include short and extended responses. Questions are written generically to accommodate candidates who have studied different religions. Candidates are required to use specific knowledge relevant to at least one religious perspective when responding to each question. Questions will typically require students to critically engage and conceptualise specific understandings on the influence of religion drawn from course content. Sources, such as quotations, propositions, cartoons, images, graphs and text, may be used as stimulus material. Candidates may be asked to choose from a selection of questions.