MARKING KEY

1. Identify who Homer is, and describe why was he significant in our knowledge of the Trojan War? (2 marks)

Description
1 mark - Identifies who Homer is 1 mark - Describes why Homer was significant in contributing to knowledge of the Trojan War
Answer could include, but is not limited to: ➔ Mention of Homer being first person to have recorded the Trojan war. ➔ May have been blind or not an individual but 'Homer' may have meant a group of scribes that recorded the Iliad. ➔ Significant as his writing of the Trojan war was the first ever recorded ➔ Written well after the events, so some debate whether the events actually happened ➔ Also gives us knowledge of the Greek gods and the pantheon of gods & goddesses from the time period as well, and their significance in everyday Greek life

2. Explain why some archaeologists and academics do not value the work of Sir Arthur Evans in relation to the Minoans (4 marks)

Description
1 mark - Identifies who Sir Arthur Evans is 1 - 3 marks - Explains why some archaeologists and academics do not value the work of Sir Arthur Evans in relation to the Minoans Depends on depth/detail provided in explanation
Answer could include, but is not limited to: ➔ Sir Arthur Evans was an archaeologist who excavated the ruins of the ancient city of Knossos in Crete and uncovered evidence of a sophisticated Bronze Age civilisation, which he named Minoan ➔ Discovered the palace structure and other key areas ➔ However, because he reconstructed and rebuilt areas, were they historically accurate or in his own view? ➔ This then impacts how we as historians see the site, is it accurate?

3. Describe the role Knossos played in Minoan society. (4 marks)

Description
1 mark - Identifies what Knossos is 1 - 3 marks - Describes the roles and significance of Knossos to the Minoan civilisation Depends on depth/detail provided in explanation
Answer could include, but is not limited to: ➡ Knossos is the ancient Minoan palace and surrounding city on the island of Crete ➡ The settlement was established well before 2000 BCE and was destroyed, most likely by fire (though some claim a tsunami) c. 1700 BCE. ➡ Vicinity to the water, surrounded by water to therefore trade with places like Egypt, mainland Greece etc ➡ Fishing occupations – boat building, fishing, dye for clothing from animals ➡ Farming – olive oil, grapes, etc ➡ Religious activities took place and were important due to images on frescoes we can see (ie bull leaping) at Knossos ➡ Economy mainly barter and trade, no evidence of money used as no coins found on Crete - Palace Economy

4. Compare AND Contrast the Minoans and the Mycenaeans (4 marks)

Description
1 - 2 marks - Identifies and explains at least ONE point of comparison 1 - 2 marks - Identifies and explains at least ONE point of contrast Depends on depth/detail provided in explanation
Answer could include, but is not limited to: ➡ SIMILARITIES: • Sea themed art • Linear A/B Languages • Skilled workers • Social Structure • Adopted Minoan art/culture ➡ DIFFERENCES: • Minoan Palaces/Mycenaean Fortification • Minoan Sea and Naval Army/Mycenaean Land and Sea Army • Mycenaeans as a more militaristic society • Minoan bull focus - variety of gods/Mycenaean focus on myths/heroes

5. Explain who Agamemnon is, and describe why the mask of Agamemnon was so significant. (5 marks)

Description
1 mark - Identifies who Agamemnon is 1 - 2 marks - Explains who Agamemnon is in relation to the Mycenaean culture 1 - 2 marks - Explains the significance of the Death Masks (specifically Agamemnon's) in relation to Mycenaean civilisation Depends on depth/detail provided in explanation
Answer could include, but is not limited to: ➡ Agamemnon was the king of Mycenae and the leader of the Greek Army in the Trojan War of Homer's Iliad ➡ He is presented as a great warrior but selfish ruler, famously upsetting his invincible champion Achilles and so prolonging the war and suffering of his men. ➡ The famous gold mask found in Grave Site A at Mycenae and widely known as the 'Mask of Agamemnon' is dated as up to 400 years before any possible Agamemnon candidate that fits a chronology of the Trojan War. ➡ Discovered in Mycenae in 1876 by the German archaeologist Heinrich Schliemann. ➡ This mask is made of gold and is a funeral mask found over the face of a dead body in a burial place at Mycenae. ➡ Schliemann thought that the body and the mask are of the legendary King Agamemnon. ➡ However, modern researchers and archaeologists are of the opinion that the mask dates from an era much before the life and reign of Agamemnon. Whatever the case is, this mask is crafted out of pure gold and such masks were put on the faces of deceased kings and royal people ➡ Provides insight into daily life/religious rituals of Mycenaeans
