

Wedding of Peleus and Thetis. Eris, one of the Goddesses, was not invited to the wedding. She throws a Golden Apple into the party which has the words 'The Fairest' Written on it.

Hera (wife of Zeus), Aphrodite (Goddess of love) and Athena (Goddess of Wisdom) all fight for the apple. They ask Zeus to decide on who should have it, but he asks Paris (Son of King Priam of Troy) to decide.

Each Goddess attempts to bribe Paris. He ends up choosing Aphrodite, as they bribed him with the most beautiful woman in the world.

This woman is Helen of Troy, wife of Menelaus (King of Sparta)

The Gods and Goddesses choose sides. The Greeks land at the Hellespont (Dardenelles) and many battles occur.

Menelaus' brother, Agamemnon, helps his brother to regain Helen. Agamemnon also has his own plans to gain control of Troy and the Mediterranean.

Paris kidnaps Helen. They head to Troy from Sparta. The Greeks (Mycenaeans included) chase after them. Menelaus is upset his wife is gone.

Achilles (The greatest GREEK fighter), kills the greatest TROJAN fighter, Hector. Hector had killed Achilles' best friend Patroclus. Hector is Paris' brother.

King Priam, their dad, comes to see Hector's body. It is at this time that Paris shoots Achilles in his foot, killing him.

Odysseus comes up with the idea of the Trojan horse. The Greeks build a giant horse and then leave, they are actually hidden on the other side of the Hellespont, away from immediate view. The Trojans find the horse and take it inside the city walls, Paris objects and warns it may be a trick but Priam believes it to be a good omen.

After the Trojans celebrate their win over the Greeks, the Greeks sneak out of the horse and let the Greeks into the city of Troy. The Greeks slaughter and defeat the Trojans.